

Cloning of Plants and Animals: The Nuts in Our Heads: Genetic Engineering (Paperback)

By Prof Paul Ola Igboji PhD

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Large Print. Language: English. Brand new Book. Cloning of plants and animals is a very complicated and controversial issue. On the part of scientists, researchers, marketers, consumers, citizens, government, regulators, religious and civilisation. While the cure of cancer, HIV/AIDS, Ebola may be revolutionised by genetic engineering and herald the dawn of a new era in the world; similarly will provision of food, water and if possible cloned soil at little or no cost to estimated world populace of 6 billion, with over 3 billion classed as very poor, hungry and malnourished in Africa and Asia; and targeted population of over 10 billion by 2050 with same pattern of distribution; anything called food will go for a hungry world, whether genetically or naturally modified. Again, in the era of aging population higher than younger generations in the western world, and the need to retain and replicate sexes of same race in western world, and to avoid loss of generational lineage, coupled with increased problems of infertility arising from exposure to pollutants and professional stress, especially in the western countries; majority will opt for cloning of humans to take off stresses of...
